VANCE PROTECTS THE PROPERTY OF THE PEOPLE.

☞ Citizens of North Carolina! read how nobly Gov. Vance stood up for the rights of the masses against outrages, in the taking of their property, and the plundering of them during the war by over-zealous officers. The following letter of Gov. Vance was written to Gen. D. H. Hill, during the war, and is to be found in the Legislative Documents of the Special Session of May, 1864:

State of North Carolina,
Executive Department,
Raleigh, April 22, 1863.

Gen. D. H. Hill, Goldsboro, N. C.

Dear Sir: The papers in relation to the seizure of horses in Moore and Randolph, by Lieut.———, has been received with endorsements.

The explanations are very unsatisfactory and disingenous. It is exceedingly strange that 15 or 20 horses should be taken, and the officers not know who they were taken from or who they belonged to?

This being so, in all conscience, how did he know them to be disloyal? What right had Lieut.———to plunder the citizens? By whose authority did he undertake to try these people, and decide upon their loyalty, and proceed to confiscate their property? And more especially who authorized him to burn the still-houses of the citizens? I am sure I did not, neither did General Smith who sent him to me.

I think, according to his own confessions, he has made out a case sufficient for him to be dismissed from the service. I don't ask this, however, but only that the horses may be returned to their owners or paid for. I have no right however, to waive any claim these men may have against the government for damages for their houses burnt.

Very respectfully and truly yours
Z. B. VANCE.

SOLDIER'S SENTIMENTS.

From the Kansas City Times.

Company D. of the 11th United States infantry, arrived in this city on Sunday, and were obliged to lay over until Monday. They were from Fort Worth, or some other post in Texas, and on their way to the Indian country in Dacotah. A meddlesome radical politician met the boys soon after they had pitched their tents on a hill above the depot, and as they marched across Union Avenue to the Broad-Gauge saloon, called out:

'Hurrah, boys, for Hayes!'

Not a solitary cheer responded. One of the sergeants stepped out of the crowd and remarked:

'You have made a mistake; we don't cheer for Hayes, we are Tilden men.'

'What! you do not mean to say you oppose the men who give you food and clothing?'

'Yes, we do. We are tired of Grant and his gang, and as for our food and clothes, we will excuse him for that if he will let us loose.'

'Oh, nonsense, boys; you don't mean to go back on Grant and Hayes?'

'Yes, we will go back on any man who keeps two-thirds of our boys in blue down in 'Dixie' to keep white men down beneath the niggers, and who sends a handful of us north to be killed and scalped by the Indians, armed with guns and bullets, furnished by Grant's brother Orville and his deputy post-traders.'

'Oh, you are a copperhead democrat,' said the now exasperated politician.

'Yes, and I will bet you a keg of beer, that three-fourths of my company are Tilden men.'

'I will take that bet.'

A vote was taken, and the vote in company D. 11th United States infantry, stood —Tilden 40; Hayes, 4.

The vote was taken in the presence of George Gooch, of the Broad-Gauge, who supplied the soldier boys with the beer, at the expense of the discomfited republican politician.

These are the kind of men Grant ought to send to help carry Louisiana and South Carolina for Hayes and Grantism.

The dog show at the Centennial is said to be very interesting. Over five hundred thoroughbred dogs, of every breed, are on exhibition, many of them imported animals, and all choice specimens of the various kinds. Among the varieties are fox-hounds, harriers, beagles, dachshurds, grey-hounds, English settlers, imported and native; imported and native Irish setters, Gordon setters, pointers, retrievers, and Chesapeake Bay dogs, Irish water spaniels, cocker spaniels, mastiffs, St. Bernard dogs, Newfoundland dogs, Siberian or Ulm dogs, Dalmatian or coach dogs, sheep dogs, bull dogs, bull terriers, fox black and, tan and skye terriers, Pomeranian or Spitz dogs, &c.

Hope is said to be brightest when it dawns from fears. This is very beautiful thought but it seldom ever occours.

OLD SI.

He Tells What He Knows About De Publicans and Reform.

[Atlanta Constitution.]

Old Si stopped with a gang of darkies at Grant's new building last evening.

"What you niggers all standin' abround 'hyar fur, doin' nuffin and liven' offen the money dat yer mudders gits from the white folk for washin?' he querid.

We'se jest talkin' bout dis 'publican meetin' at de City Hall las' night, and I was sayin' dat I didn't see much diff'rence twix dem 'publicans an' de Dimmycrats, fur as we niggers am consarned,' replied Amos.

'Does you want ter heah dat dar diff'rence 'splained, jess like it am bound ter stan' on the dockit?'

'Dat we does, Uncle Si,' said a solemn and emphatic darkey.

'Well yeu see' de 'publicans day is always up for de reconstrucshun—dat's dere platform ever sence de war, 'kase yer all heah dat all de time!'

'Oh, corse it is.'

'An' de Dimmycrats dey come out on dere platform for de re-form—yer see dat?'

'So dey is,' dubiously spoken.

'Well, de reconstruction, hit am like bustin' up de hoss power to a co'n mill, an' tryin' fur to put hit together again in annudder way from de man whar made it?'

'Yer heah dat now?' said one to the others.

'An' de reform, dat means dat yer takes de ricketty ole hoss power ter pieces, fixes all de parts into de same shapes dat dey was at the fust, tightens up de braces an' de sockits an' den puts dat whole hoss power up jes' 'zactly de same, but a heap more substantial dan hit was when yer fust got it from de factry!'

'Hi! jess listen at de ole man!' said the enthusiastic auditors.

'Now yer puts disan' dat togedder and dar yer sees de diff'rance twix de 'publican party an' de Dimmycrat party! De 'publicans dey done got de whole United States busted all ter smash an' dey can't git hit sot up de right way agin, but de Dimmycrats dey is comin 'long wid dere hammer and drawknife, an' dey gwine ter put her up jess de same like she nebber wuz broke by dem smart Aleck 'publicans—yer nin ole Si, now!'

The other negroes looked at each other as though they had found a hen's nest full of eggs, and then told the old man:

'You's up wid de race, you is?'

'Dat I am niggers; an' when dem 'publicans reconstruct dat dere freed man bank den I'm gwine ter b'elieve dat dey kno's dere bizness—but not befo,' yer heah me!'

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP.

Once two ministers of the gospel were conversing on extemporaneous preaching.

'Well,' said the old divine, waxing warm, 'you are ruining yourself by writing your sermons and reading them off. Your congregation cannot become interested in your preaching; and if you were called upon to preach unexpectedly, unless you could get hold of an old sermon, you would be completely confused.'

The young divine used all his eloquence, but in valu, to convince the old gentleman that the written sermons expressed his own thoughts and feelings, and if called upon he could preach extemporaneously.

'As we are of the same faith,' said the young minister, 'suppose you try me next Sabbath morning. On ascending the pulpit you can hand me a text from any part of the Bible, and I will convince you that I can preach without having looked at the text before I stood up. Likewise, I must be allowed the same privilege with you, and see who will make the best of it.'

The idea seemed to delight the old gentleman, and it was immediately agreed upon.

The following Sabbath, on mounting the pulpit, his senior brother handed him a slip of paper on which was written, 'And the ass opened his mouth and spake.' from which he preached a glorious sermon, challenging the attention of his delighted hearers, and charming his old friend with his eloquence.

In the afternoon the young brother, who was sitting below the pulpit, handed his slip. After rising and opening the Bible, the old man looked sadly around—'Am I not thine ass?' Pausing a few minutes, he ran his finger through his hair, straightened his collar, blew his nose like the last trumpet, and read aloud, 'Am I not thine ass?' Another pause, in which a deadly silence reigned. After reading the third time, 'Am I not thine ass?' he looked over the pulpit at his friend, and in a doleful voice said, I think I am brother.

'Marriage is promotion,' says George Eliot. In the eyes of such a reasoner a man with his third wife would doubtless pass for a brigadier general.

JARVIS INTERVIEWED.

A Raleigh Sentinel reporter obtained the following interview with Mr. Jarvis in his room at the National hotel.

'You have been over the ridge, Mr. Jarvis?'

'Yes, sir; over it and almost under it.'

'How many counties west of the ridge have you canvassed?'

'I have been in Buncombe, Haywood, Jackson, Swain, Graham, Cherokee, Transylvania, Henderson and Polk.'

'Now, what think you of Vance and Jarvis in those counties?'

'Our net gain in these counties will be 15 per cent. on the vote of '72.'

'Well you know the political status of the other ridge counties, and now please give your idea of the majority to cross it?'

'We will come on this side of the ridge with 1,500 increased majority on the vote of '72. We will get it as certain as we are sitting where we are.'

'How many counties this side of the ridge have you traversed?'

'I have been in Rutherford, Cleaveland, Iredell, Surry, Stokes, Yadkin, Forsythe Guilford.'

'Well, what of those counties?'

'Take this lump of counties and our gains on the vote of '72 will be larger than in the counties west of the ridge. For instance, up to this time, our gains in Yadkin will be small, unless better work is done there, but in Surry county we will almost make a clean sweep. The clerk of the court has come over to us, and numbers and numbers of prominent republicans have alike come.'

'How is it in your district, the 1st?'

'I have been the last three or four days in several counties of that district, and have seen and heard from reliable persons in other counties of the district and I know that we will gain two thousand votes in that district. I will stake my political existence on that.'

'You appear so well posted, Mr. Jarvis, what is your idea of carrying the state?'

'I will give you a frank opinion. If Indiana, Ohio and the balance of the world vote against us in October, our majority in the State cannot be less than six or seven thousand. If Indiana votes with us and Ohio against us our majority will be from seven to ten thousand, and if both vote for us, the whole republican line will give way and our majority will be very large.'

TILDEN AT THE CENTENNIAL.

Mr. Tilden went to the Centennial on Thursday, 21st inst. A small matter.

Mr. Grant was there that day. A smaller matter.

But the comparison between the reception given those two citizens is significant; is, in fact, if we may quote a profane solecism, 'ominous of a d—d good sign.'

It was the 'New York day,' and the largest assemblage had gathered that has yet been seen on the Exhibition grounds.

Mr. Grant had occasion more than once to appear before crowds of twenty or twenty-five thousand people in a single building. Not a hat was lifted to him, not a cheer was raised, and he passed in full view, no longer the observed of all observers, but simply Mr. Grant, who does not particularly adorn a private station.

When Mr. Tilden appeared the scene was far different. A hurricane of cheers followed him as he went, and a vast crowd pressed to do him honor by personal greeting and by the shouts of applause that greet none but trusted leaders and approved servants of the public.

A citizen of Richmond, just returned from Philadelphia, assures us that this popular enthusiasm was a revelation to him, and that on Western trains, carrying Ohio people, is was so universal as to surprise him into the confident belief of a great triumph for Tilden in that State in October.

All signs point in the same way. We shall have Tilden for our President.

Richmond State.

THE BRONZE STATUE OF LAFAYETTE. The beautiful thought of the French Republic in 1871, under the administration of M. Thiers, to commemorate the sympathy given by us to France during the Franco-German war, by presenting to the city of New York a bronze statue of Lafayette, was on Wednesday last, the 119 anniversary of his birth, perfected in that city with appropriate ceremonies. The statue of the ardent patriot and hero, whose love for pure republicanism was confied to no country or continent, has been executed in the highest style of art by the renowned M. Bartholdi. The French Government appropriated 150,000 francs for the work. The pedestal, which is finely carved, is the gift of French residents in New York. It bears four inscriptions. On the front is the word "Lafayette.' On the west side, 'To the City of York, France, in remembrance of sympathy in time of trial. 1870-71.' On the east side, 'As soon as I heard of American Independence my heart was enlisted. 1776.' On the back, 'Erected 1876.' This touching embodiment of fraternal relations between two great peoples ornaments Union Square.

'Ma, dear,' said an intelligent pet, 'what do they play the organ so loud for when church is over? Is it to wake us up.

A TEXAS COURTSHIP.

He sat on one side of the room in a big white oak rocking chair. She on the other side in a little oak rocking chair. A long eared deerhound, snapping at flies was by his side, a basket of work was by her. Both rocked incessantly—that is, the young people, not the dog and basket. He sighs heavily, and looks out the west window at a crape myrtle tree; she sighs lightly and gazes out the east window at the turnip patch.

"This is mighty good weather to pick cotton."

"Tis that, if we only had it to pick.'

The rocking continues.

'What's your dog's name?'

'Cooney.'

Another broken stillness.

'What is he good fur?'

'What is what fur?' said he abstractedly.

'Your dog—Cooney.'

'Oh, for ketchin possums.'

Silence of half an hour.

'He looks like a deer dog.'

'Who looks like a deer dog?'

'Cooney.'

'He is—But he's kinder bellowsed, and gittin' old and slow now. And he ain't no 'count on a cold trail.'

In a quiet ten minutes that insued she took two stitches in her quilt; it was a gorgeous affair, that quilt—it was made by the pattern called, 'Rose of Sharon.'

She is very particular about the nomenclature of quilts and frequently walks fifteen miles to get a new pattern, with a 'real putty name.'

'Your ma raisin' many chickens?'

Forty odd.'

Then more rocking, and somehow, after a while the big rocking chair and the little rocking chair were jammed side by side.

'How many has your ma got?'

'How many what?'

'Chickens.'

'Nigh onto a hundred.'

By this time the chairs were so close tegther that rocking was impossible.

'The minks has eat all ours.'

Then a long silence rigus. At last he observes:

'Makin' quilts?'

'Yes,' she replies, brightening up 'I've just finished a 'Rosin' Eagul of Brazeel,' a 'Settin' Sun,' a 'Naison's Pride'

Have you ever saw the 'Yellow rose of the Prary'

'No.'

More silence; then he says:

'Do you love cabbage?'

'I do that.'

Presently his hand is accidently placed on hers. She does not know it—at least does not seem aware of it. Then after a half hour spent in sighs, coughing and clearing of throat he suddenly says;

'I'se a great mind to bite you!'

'What have you a great mind to bite me fur?'

'Kase you won't have me'

'Kase you ain't ax'd me.'

'Well, now' I ax you.'

'Then now, I has you.'

Then Cooney dreams he hears a sound of kissing.

The next day the young man goes to Tigerville after the license. Wednesday the following week. No cards.

I felt sorry yesterday morning as I walked up Hull street to hear that a young colored woman had been suddenly stricken with a sort of a combination of measles, yellow-fever, small-pox, and mero-smiro-meet-your-jeters. I repaired to the scene of the young woman's affliction, and found that she had been taken so suddenly that a regular practitioner could nat be called in time. A colored doctor was called in and he boiled mint, catnip, and other herbs for several hours and then put about a half pound of caustic on the girl's toes. The consequence was that the girl jumped up and danced about and seemed delight with herself. When the doctor came he remarked: 'How is this? I've been sent for, and find my patient in a very lively condition.' The herb doctor replied. 'Dat what make me say what I do say! Dat gal is all right, an' de way I treat her make her so. An' why? Because I ain't much on de medical, but I'm hell on de herbical.'—Ex.

Hayden, a wife murderer now in jail in Newport, Vt; refuses to employ counsel, says he will make no defense, that he desires to be hanged, and that the sooner the form of law is gone through with the better satisfied he shall be.

A young man of our acquaintance called on a young lady friend Sunday evening; but as he happened to sit down on a chair where the cat was taking a nap, he merely stopped to remark, 'Jupiter!' and hurried back home.—Rome Sentinel.

An old bachelor having been laughed at by a party of pretty girls, told them: 'You are small potatoes,' said one of them 'but we are sweet ones!'

NO MORTGAGE ON THE FARM.

BY LOUSE B. UPHAM.

'Come, Mollie, put by your churn to-day
Put off your homespun brown;
Put on your cap with the smart new bows,
And don your holiday gown;
We've toiled together, side by side,
Long years my patient wife,
But this day we'll crown the day of days,
Of all our wedded life;
There's no mortgage on the farm!

'The dear old house, where our babes were born,
The garden where they played—
The ivied porch, where we rest at eve—
The orchard and glade—
All, all, is ours; and wife, I feel
As proud as a king to-day;
Aye, as proud as a freeman e'er should feel,
It is such great joy to say,
There's no mortgage on the farm!

'Do you remember the sweet June morn,
When first to this home you came,
How the blushes mantled your dimpled cheeks,
When they called you by my name?
Your hair was as brown as the robin's wing
Your step as the fawn's was free;
You little knew of life's burden then,
But, wife you have live to see
No mortgage upon the farm.

'Your courage and cheery smiles have made
One long, long summer here,
For you the roses half hid their thorns,
And hope sang all the year.
And now your wedding-ring grown thin,
And silver threads in your hair,
You, Mollie, who half my griefs have borne,
Shall all my rapture share:
No mortgage is on the farm!

'And when our boys and girls come home,
They will see how young we've grown,
And wonder what fairy came to bless
The old couple left alone,
Then we'll point to our fields of waving grain,
To the hills where our cattle stray,
Nor will we forget the Giver of all
As we proudly, thankfully say:
There's no mortgage upon our farm!'

HIDDEN TREASURE.

Gold hunters who still dream of finding the treasure of Capt. Kidd should read the story that comes from Indiana and be encouraged. In the little town of Eminence about twenty-five miles southwest of Indianapolis, two Indians called at a farmer's house early in the evening and asked the way to a certain tree. Proper directions were given and the Indians departed. Never having seen his callers before, the farmer was curious to know their object, and went to the tree by a short road and hid himself in the bushes near by. Soon the Indians came, lantern in hand. They dug a hole in the ground on one side of the tree—they seemed to know the very place to dig—and to the blank amazement of the farmer found a copper chest two feet square opened it by the light of the lantern, and took out several bags of gold which they at once poured into a strong sack provided for the purpose. Astounded at the sight, the farmer jumped from his hiding place toward the men, but in an instant the light went out, all was darkness, and the Indians disappeared through the bushes. He estimates that $10,000 were found in the chest, and it is believed the treasure was secreted there many years ago by some ancestor of the Indians in his flight before the enemy.

New York, Sept. 21.—Judge Jas. P. Simat, the law clerk of Gov. Tilden in 1862 has written a letter to Abraham S. Hewitt, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, in reply to the charges of the New York Times concerning Gov. Tilden's income tax. He states that out of thirteen pretended items of income tax, amounting to $110,000, eleven items, amounting to $84,000 are fictitious. The other two amounting to about $26,000, are only partially true. He adds that for what income accrued prior to January, 1862, at which date the income tax went into operation, Gov. Tilden was in no wise liable to be taxed. He declares, after careful examination, the Times' statement to be false in every important particular.

Said a little boy to his mother the other morning: 'Ma, I had the beautifulest dream last night you ever saw. I dreamt that I wouldn't go to school, and that you went into the yard and cut a great long switch, but just as you was going to give me an awful dressin' the world came to an end! Didn't I get out of that easy, though!'

An urchin being rebuked for wearing out stockings at the toes, replied that it couldn't be helped—'toes wiggled and heels didn't.'

Why is a Radical like a drunkard? Because he it always poking his nose into measures that ruin the Constitution.

VANCE'S APPOINTMENTS.

Vance and Settle have made their appointments for this section. Among them are those for

Roxboro, Tuesday Octotober 10th.
Hillsboro, Thursday, October 12th
Graham, Friday, October 13th.

Circulate the news of these appointments and let the attendance be full.

HON. GEORGE DAVIS.

On the 7th of October, the Hon. George Davis of Wilmington speaks in Hillsboro.

Let all come to hear him. He was a schoolmate of ours, and in a life prolonged to a considerable extent, we have never found occasion to abate our impressions of early admiration. George Davis has been the same, boy and man. Pure, upright and manly, with his uprightness, he has always connected the idea of duty to his country. He has always been patriotic, true to the Constitution, true to the South. As Attorney General of the Confederacy, he was distinguished for ability. As a retired citizen since the war he has been one of the most ardent advocates for what we all want—peace and harmony.

Let us therefore all give him an honest welcome.

THE RALEIGH OBSERVER.

We think the Democratic party in North Carolina will be well served by the new paper proposed to be established in the city of Raleigh. No fault can be found with those at present in existence in that city. The News has a reputation that is State wide. The Sentinel has in it an amount of brain that must make it pre-eminent in our journalistic annals. But both of these papers need not fear the presence—the intrusion if they choose to call it—of a paper heralded with such names as Saunders and Hale. He who has led in times past that column that gave the old Whig element of Cumberland its impressive force, cannot be disregarded now, when he has returned to his native State to display his weapons and throw the force of his talents in the great cause of Constitutional liberty.

Of Saunders, what cannot we say? A personal friend, for whom we have the warmest attachment; beyond friendship, the highest admiration. For in talent, in political knowledge, in worship for his State, and in zeal and ability to maintain the interests of his State, he has no equal.

We hope our people will give the Observer the patronage it deserves.

LET US SEE.

The people of Orange pay $10,000 taxes now under the present Constitution. Under the old, they paid less than $20,000, can they stand that? Let them reflect.

Under the Amendments of the Constitution proposed, their Legislature will cost them only forty thousand dollars. Under the Legislature of 1868-9, they were muleted in the sum of $180,000.

They now pay for Five Judges of the Supreme Court when they only need three.

They now pay for twelve Judges of the circuit court when they only need nine.

All things look bright for Democratic success. The Republicans have virtually given up Indiana, and have only a meagre hope for Ohio. Those States vote on the 10th. But, as we have said before, dont let reverse in either disarm us. We must fight for victory at home. We have much to gain.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

Our readers may become tired of a reiteration of old ideas. We have hammered on the Constitution for the past two years. We have done so conscientiously, and if we weary our readers we can only plead our zeal for a great and glorious cause.

What do we propose to accomplish in the adoption of the amendments? We all admit that the Constitution of 1868 was forced upon us—that the real voice of North Corolina was not expressed—that a military dictator really impressed it upon us—that we are really slaves to military dictators

In the might of restored rights our people met and demanded the restoration of their powers. And we do demand and we call on the people to help us out.

What have we not suffered? We lay prostrate under negro rule. Shall eighty thousand ignorant negroes rule one hundred and fifty thousand whites of North Carolina. Is this all? Look at the taxes. Awful! awful! Compare the expenses before the war and since the war. Our State government in 1859 cost us but $59,000. The Legislature of 1868-9,—a radical one cost us $486,000 That party asks us to restore it to power. Must we do it? Can we do it? Heaven forbid! man, woman and child must cry out against the enormity.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?

Senator Bayard makes a statement which will excite attention. He shows while three Southern States pay internal revenue to the amount of twenty millions, the six New England States pay only two million. New England has the majority of the patronage of the government. The South gets little or nothing. Yet the South with its tobacco, its cotton, its rice, its sugar is the great stimulator of national prosperity. Why this descrepancy in the burdens of taxation, and why this inequality in national patronage? Is not the South as loyal, as true to Constitutional principles as the New England States? Judge Black in his admirable letter, shows that New England, has been grasping and avaricious from its origin—a greed that developed the first seeds of disunion when that greed could not be filled. Does that section hold the control of the country by the influence of fear? Is peace more potent than true regard to the Constitution? It would seem so, and the South has always been punished that New England might thrive.

It is unjust, but we suppose it must be so.

DANVILLE.

Let us lay politics aside for a moment. Just beyond our borders, in a line legitimately claimed by North Carolina, lies a flourishing town owing its existence to North Carolina productions, if not to Virginia enterprise.

Danville, on the Dan, has grown within the last six years to the magnitude of a city, stretching along the broad waters of the turbulent river that riots at its feet—and we are sorry to say,—is not utilized by its citizens.

Let Danville grow. We of North Carolina are interested in her dimensions. We can take pride in her water-works, in her gas works, in her bridges, and—in what we have suffered in her improved streets.

Let Danville go ahead, and there is no draw in North Carolina that will say nay to her prosperity.

THE TILDEN SCANDAL.

The New York Times which originated the damaging charges against Gov. Tilden has made a complete retraction. The purity claimed for Tilden is completely sustained. It was an infamous lie from the beginning.

The national expense, ought to awake the people. They are directly interested. Can they afford to pay three hundred million's when they ought only to pay one hundred millions? The former comes out of their pockets, and out of hard earnings. The latter sum ought to come from external revenue which the country can bear. Go for the Democratic ticket, which will restore economy in the government.

Now let Grant go to the rear. He has found his bottom. At the Centennial he had not a cheer. At the opening on May 10th he was hissed; at his presence, on the 25th he was received in silence. He is no third time man.

Let Vance be the man. Can Settle do for us what we need? Put him as Governor, and he will appoint a Judge who will influence the Supreme Court, and then we will have a debt of eight millions of special tax bonds fixed on us. VOTE FOR VANCE.

Savannah, S. C; 23.—The total interments to-day were 46, of which 30 were of yellow fever.

Do you want a continuation of strife, or do you want the restoration of harmony? The election of Hayes will give you the former; that of Tilden will give you the latter. Which is your choice?

THAT THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The Republican organ, the Constitution does not deny the truth of our statement that a leading Republican from this State left New York on the Old Dominion steamer for Norfolk, on the 2nd of September, bringing with him $30,000 to use for election purposes in North Carolina.

This is a fact. Only $30,000 for election purposes! That is not enough. Republicans; it is but a tenth part as much as was had in the campaign of 1872. If If you barely saved yourselves from defeat with the use of $300,000, how can you hope for success now with the paltry sum of $30,000?

We do not see upon what grounds the Republicans can base a reasonable hope of carrying the State in this election. They have carried the State but once since 1868 on a square party fight. That was in 1872 in the Gubernatorial contest.

They were successful then, because they had three hundred thousand dollars to spend "for campaign purposes." Now, they have but thirty thousand dollars. With that they cannot poll the votes they gave Caldwell. But a few days ago, a regular correspondent of the New York Times closed his letter with an appeal to the National Committee to 'sustain' the Republicans in this State. That means, 'send on more money: $30,000 in not enough.'—Ral. News.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The Herald has the following Washington special:

'A great deal of comment and surprise has been expressed here that so extraordinary a step as sending a United States vessel for a State prisoner has been taken. It is inferred here that it was done at the instance of Mr. Adee, charge-d'affaires at the American legation, in conformity with the wishes of the Spanish Government. It is thought among those capable of judging that Mr. Fish has blundered in taking any cognizance of Tweed's case, as he is merely an offender against a State, and not the Federal Government. Even the officials of the Navy Department are astonished at the seeming stretch of authority, and cannot account for any legitimate international consideration which would warrant it. A naval officer of high position says that if he were in command of the Franklin he would refuse to receive him. From the correspondence had between the Navy and State Departments it is evident that Mr. Tweed was more than willing to be a prisoner in national custody than remain in a Spanish prison.'

Vigo, Spain, Sept. 26.—The steamer Franklin arrived here to day. Tweed was much surprised when told that the Franklin was to take him and Hunt to the United States. He had hoped on arriving in Cuba to be able to avoid being given up to the American authorities. He expressed great disappointment at the new aspect of affairs. During their confinement Tweed and Hunt were kept in separate rooms, closely guarded and not allowed to communicate with each other. Mr. Adee, charge-de-affairs, has been warned that Tweed might make away with himself rather than return to New York. The commander of the Franklin has therefore been instructed to keep him strictly confined, and leave him no opportunity to jump overboard

Spotted Tail, Agency, Sept. 22.—All the commissioners were present at the council here to-day. Spotted Tail made a long speech, setting forth how treaties had been violated by the Great Father. He said: 'This is the country where my people were born, and where they have acquired all their property, their children, and their horses. You have come here to buy this country of us, and it would be well if you would come with the goods you propose to give us and to put them out of your hand, so we can see the good price you propose to pay for it.'

Concerning the war he says: 'This seems to me to be a very hard day. Half of our country is at war, and we have come upon difficult times. This war did not spring up here in our land. It was brought upon us by the children of the Great Father, who came to take our land from us without price, and who do a great many evil things. The Great Farther and his children are to blame for this trouble.'

Spotted Tail Agency, Sept. 25.—A treaty with the Indians of this agency was concluded this evening, after a three hours' council. Spotted Tail made another lengthy speech, after which he arose and left the council-room. While outside, E. W. Raymond, a white man living with Spotted Tail's people for twenty-seven years past, told him if he did not sign Red Cloud would get ahead of him and derive all the advantages to be had from the treaty. Red Cloud and Red Dog, who were outside, then went in and urged Spotted Tail and his people to sign the treaty.

Two-Strike said: 'The reason we are afraid to touch the pen and are silent before you is because we have been deceived so many times before. If we know the words you tell us were true we should be willing every day.'

Spotted Tail then addressed his people, saying if the Indians of Red Cloud Agency had not signed he would then persist in holding out, but as they had signed he asked all to come up and sign.

Half an hour later the necessary signatures were attached and the treaty was made.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Secretary Morrill has returned.

Calvin J. Cowles has been appointed assayer and melter at the Charlotte, N. C; Mint.

Naval Paymaster Brossee before reported missing, is safe at Philadelphia

Governor Grover, Democrat, of Oregon has been elected United States Senator.

Paymaster Rufus Parks has been ordered to Norfolk.

PROTECT YOUR BUILDINGS

Which may be done with one-fourth the usual expense, by using our

PATENT SLATE PAINT,

MIXED READY FOR USE.

Fire-Proof. Water-Proof, Durable, Economical and Ornamental.

A ROOF may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by application of this Slate be made to last from 20 to 30 years. Old roofs can be patched and coated, looking much better, and lasting longer than new shingles without the slate, for

One-Third the Cost of Reshingling.

The expense of slating new shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them. The paint is FIRE-PROOF against sparks or flying embers as may be easily tested by any one.

IT STOPS EVERY LEAK, and for tin or iron has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and never cracks nor scales. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water-tight at a small expense, and preserved for many years.

This Slate Paint is EXTREMELY CHEAP.

Two gallons will cover a hundred square feet of shingle roof, while on tin, iron, felt, matched boards, or any smooth surface, from two quarts to one gallon are required to 100 square feet of surface, and although the Paint has a heavy body it is easily applied with a brush.

No Tar is used in this Composition, therefore it neither cracks in Winter, nor runs in Summer.

On decayed shingles it fills up the holes and pores, and gives a new substantial roof that will last for years. Curled or Warped shingles it brings to their places and keeps them there. It fills up all holes in Felt roofs, stops the leaks—and although a slow dryer, rains do not affect it a few hours after applying. As nearly all paints that are black contain Tar, be sure you obtain our Genuine article, which (for shingle roofs) is

CHOCOLATE COLOR,

when first applied, changing in about a month to a uniform slate color, and is to all intents and purposes SLATE. On our red color is usually preferred, as one coat is equal to five of any ordinary paint. For our Bright Red is the only reliable Slate Paint ever introduced that will effectually prevent dampness from penetrating and discoloring the plaster.

TIN ROOFS,

BRICK WALLS,

Three paints are also largely used on out-houses and fences, or as a priming coat on the buildings.

Our only colors are

Chocolate, Red, Bright Red and Orange.

Capt. J. J. Davis will be the guest of Dr. Pride Jones on Saturday.

The county canvass begins in Person this week.

The Board of Commissioners is in session.

Mr. Jones Watson brought up from Chapel Hill some of the finest sweet potatoes we have seen this season. They were raised by Mr. J. M. Alexander, and will average about four pounds each.

We call attention to the fact that, Mrs. Mattie Taylor, Milliner and Dress Maker has just received a full supply of fall goods of all kinds. Cheap for CASH. Don't fail to call on her before purchasing elsewhere. All kinds of country produce taking in exchange for goods.

The Board of Commissioners decided the question of the fence around the Court House at their meeting on Monday by letting it out to Charles Conley, who proved to be the lowest bidder, to whom it was allotted at $214,75·

We learn that Mr. James Maris is very sick at his residence in this county. He submitted to an operation last week, which no hope will ensure a recovery·

Mr. William Waddell, son of Maurice Q. Waddell Esq of Pittsboro is one of the victims of the Savannah scourge.

Quite a number of Centennial visitors have returned. There are still a number abroad, among them H. N. Brown and Charles Parks. These gentlemen propose to kill two birds with one stone.

Read the number of new ads,—among them that of Charls Parks who makes the finest show he has ever made in these columns.

The mercury on Monday morning was at 46—the coldest of the season.

Dr. John Berry and Miss. Mary Strayhorn were married on Monday morning, and left immediately on a Centennial tour.

The committee have made ample preparations for the speaking on Saturday.

Don't forget that Vance and Settle meet here on the 12th. Orange, Chatham, Alamance, Person and Caswell must be here to meet them.

Somewhat frosty last week, and tobacco growers will be on the qui-vive.

Cannot something be done here in aid of the Savannah sufferers? Our town, so healthy, ought to sympathize with the afflicted city, for it must be impressed by the contrast· Let us contribute our mite.

The Daily Journal, Wilmington is suspended, from financial difficulties. All readers of that able Journal will regret its decease. For twenty eight years it stood at the head of journalism in the State. Col Saunders will soon bring his talents to bear in another field.

Various rumors of independent and opposition candidates are in circulation—hardly sufficiently authentic to give them full credence, yet with a strong air of probability about them.

Registration.

As a pre-requisite of voting, REGISTRATION is necessary. Don't let it be neglected. The time is at hand. Democrats old and young must avail themselves of the law· Many old Democrats have neglected it. Many young Democrats have recently come of age. REGISTER; REGISTER The fate of the State and of the nation hangs upon a full Democratic vote.

Hon. George Davis.

This eloquent and distinguished man, who speaks here on the 7th of October, ought to attract the attendance of the county of Orange. No man in our State is more gifted in Oratory; no man more learned; no man more brilliant; and we can add, no man more pure in personal character, and no man more ardent in devotion to his country. He is a Southern man, but he is national in his views, and it is to restore the kind relations of the sections that he has embarked his talents and his experience in the existing campaign.

Let all hear him; and we predict that after his demonstrations, many unconverted Republicans will embrace the true faith.

The Raleigh News has a startling revelation in regard to the Stephes murder· It was a pretext for the Kirk-Holden war. Now it appears to have been a Radical plan to influence public opinion against the Democrats. This has always been the belief of Democrats. If Mr Bailey's statements are correct, then there is no doubt of the fact that Stephens was murdered by his own party to conceal damaging developments.

State Fair—Meeting of the Executive Committee.

Our State Fair opens two weeks from Tuesday next, and the Executive Committee are actively at work, with the Secretary, to prepare everything for the accommodation of the people

Last night the usual meeting took place, A. Creech, Esq; presiding.

The Secretary reported various donations in addition to those heretofore mentioned, swelling the amount in articles to a very handsome sum, and adding materially to the value of the premium list.

The supplemental premium list, with a full statement of donors and their gifts, was ordered to be prepared for immediate issue.

The Secretary was authorized to contract for tickets, cards, advertising bills, and to make arrangements with the Railroad authorities for excursion trains during Fair week· It is intended to afford the most liberal facilities possible to our citizens for their attendance on this interesting Fair.

On motion of A. Creech, Esq; the committee resolved to appeal to the citizens of Raleigh, and especially the ladies, to give the Fair all possible encouragement by contributing any articles of interest to the exhibition. Great care will be taken to suitably prepare for and return everything safely.

The following committee was appointed to take charge of Floral Hall, owing to the continued ill health of Dr. B. F· Arrington; Messrs. J. F· Pescud and A· M. McPheeters, of Raleigh, and Col. Henry A. London, of Pittsboro.

Various communications were considered and encouraging reports presented. The committee was also favored with suggestions in regard to the stock department from an experienced stock raiser.

The Secretary gives notice that practical and efficient men will be employed to care for the stock and poultry, and all parties making entries may be assured that their animals will be under good supervision.

Supervisors are particularly requested to notify the Secretary of their acceptance and are asked to be present promptly, on the first day of the Fair, to take charge of their respective departments.

Some additional features of much interest will shortly be announced. Let everybody make up his mind to come to the Fair, and meet all neighbors and friends intent upon building up our own commonwealth. Every Fair is the means of adding largely, directly and indirectly, to the wealth of our State, and the general intelligence of her people, by the facilities for observation of new methods and appliances in farming· In the hardest times we ought most readily to go, one and all.

Any information desired can be had by applying to Capt. C. B. Denson, Secretary, Raleigh.

Hillsboro Shoemakers.

In point of taste and skill we think no place in the South equals Hillsboro in the excellence of its shoe mechanics. It seems to be hereditary with them, for we cannot recall the time when our town did not have a proverbial reputation, and that is maintained at the present time by such workmen as Hayes, Faucett, the Adam's and others. With their workmanship, we are surprised that a manufacturing establishment has not been established here

Orange Politics.

We think we can assure our readers that it is all right here. The Sugar Hill meeting has had no effect. Independence has no hold in this county. The people are of one way of thinking and they will work out their thoughts through their votes. Zeb. Vance and Joe Davis will carry the county by from eight hundred to a thousand votes. Mark the prediction. There is a reserved strength in this county unknown to us. Let every man register and vote, and we may calculate upon the majority we predict.

John Rosemond.

In 1832 this now resident of our town came to this country as a refugee from Poland—driven away by Russian tyrrany. His hatred to Russia is still warm. He looks upon her aggression upon Turkey with no mild eye. He thinks the condition of the christians in Turkey as better than it would be under Russian rule. In this opinion we differ, but make allowances for one who has suffered so much. Mr. Rosemond is now upwards of sixty and a staunch supporter of the Government. We are sorry to say that he is a Republican, though we have hopes of his conversion before the election.

The highest points in New York city are Trinity steeple, the Western Union Telegraph building, the tall tower of the Tribune, the New Post office, and last, but not least, the taxes on real estate· The height of a half-one "Domestic" Sewing Machine is just 38½ inches. It is not a very tall affair compared with those above mentioned, but it looms up immensely in the estimation of those who use it.

The Milton Chronicle is severe on the Dan River navigation company. We have had something to say in times past on that subject. The Dan can be made navigable, as was proved by the instance we cited last week of a boat reaching Danville from below Clarksville· But the navigation company will not do the work. As Judge Saunders used to say, it is effete. Another company of more life must take hold of the enterprise.

SUGAR HILL.

This little place, unknown to fame, is rising through the columns of the Constitution into something like notoriety· Sugar Hill was put down in North Carolina nomenclature, Orange. Certain sorehends have organized to derange Democratic success. We know them, and we have no sympathy with them, and for this reason we regarded the publication of their proceedings purely as an advertisement. If paid for, well and good; if not, then it passed into the waste basket.

Let it not be understood that the Recorder is disposed to stifle the free expression of opinion in Orange. But we will not be a party to treason against the Democratic party; and we do regard as treasonable such meetings as the one at Sugar Hill. Why should Ike Strayhorn, the elector for this District take such interest in it, if Radical interests were not to be forwarded? He went there on Saturday to make a speech· Do we hear of any Democrats being present?

The whole affair is a radical move, instigated by sore-heads. It has no influence in other parts of the county.

The Fair.

We hope the Centennial will not be allowed to interfere with the success of the State Fair. North Carolina has much at stake in keeping up an enterprise which has cost so much in money and in enterprise. Appeals to state pride should not fall on listless ears. The great drawback is in the scarcity of money. But to compensate for that to some extent, the railroad companies will reduce rates·

And we learn that the premium list is on a magnanimous scale. We received the circular of the Secretary, Capt. C. B. Denson, and it displays a much more liberal system of awards than has characterized any previous exhibition.

There ought and there should be, a full attendance.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS.

It is reported that BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP has, since its introduction in the United States, reached the immense sale of 40,000 dozen per year. Over 6,000 Druggists have ordered this medicine direct from the Factory, at Woodbury, N. J; and not one has reported a single failure, but every letter speaks of its astonished success in curing severe Coughs, Colds settled on the Breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. We advise any person that has any predisposition to weak Lungs, to go to their Druggists Dr. O. Hooker and get this medicine, or inquire about it· Regular size, 75 cents; Sample Bottle, 10 cents· Two doses will relieve any case. Don't neglect your cough.

The Milton Chronicle records a distressing accident, A Mr Kinsley of Danville while attempting to cross a swollen stream eight miles from Milton with a buggy drawn by a pair of horses, was swept down the stream. Mr. Kinsley was drowned and the horses perished.

We would again call the attention of our readers, and especially those who are interested in machinery, to the advertisement of Messrs. Poole & Hunt, so widely and favorably known as Engineers, Founders and Machinists. Ever determined to be among the first in the grand march of improvement, and to keep pace with the marvelous advance of the age in science and mechanics, this firm spare no expense in perfecting the working capacity and appliance of their splendid establishment. Their new Pattern and Price Lists, with many valuable additions, are now ready for distribution, and will be sent, postage-paid, to those who make application for them. They have also on hand an exceptionally large and comprehensive list of miscellaneous machinery patterns.

"FIRST IN WAR, FIRST IN PEACE,"

And first in the hearts of the thousands who were once the victims of disordered liver and its attendant maladies. Such as Constipation, Bilious Fevers, Colic, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Chills, Rheumatism, Gout, Jaudice, Restlessness, Loss of Appetite and General Debility. 'First TUTT'S PILLS and then health and happiness,' is their motto. This is the result of American progress in science. Diseases that were once treated by emetics, blisters, lancets, starvation and poisonous minerals, are now cured by these safe and gentle pills, which impart strength to the body, while they will remove all unhealthy secretions

MARRIED·

In this town on the 2nd of October by Rev. James H. Fitzgerald Dr. John Berry, to Miss Mary E. only daughter of Wm. F. Strayhorn Esq. All of Orange county N. C.

IN MEMORY OF CHARLEY T. BAIN.

DEDICATED TO HIS MOTHER, KINDRED, AND SCHOOL MATES.

Who cannot suffer cannot dare!
Misfortune may be everywhere,
But while a free heart hold its home,
A spirit-glory makes sublime,
Each stony road o'er which we roam—
It leads us into honor's clime—
Each noble deed it sanctifies,
And makes the mind a paradise.

The North Carolina Farmer

J. H. Enniss;

Dear Sir—I have been a practical Farmer for 30 years, and during that time have taken the best Agricultural Journals of the day, and I undertake to say that there is more valuable practical information to our farmers, in the first and second numbers of the North Carolina Farmer than in any dozen copies of the Agricultural papers I have taken and I the most earnestly recommend it to every Farmer in our State as the paper for him above all others.

WHEAT.

[By Rev. Robt. Lathan in the Yorkville Enquirer.]

The season for sowing wheat is fast approaching. In view of this fact, a few practical suggestions may not be inappropriate. The first suggestion we venture to make is, that every farmer see to it that he sows enough of wheat to supply the wants of his own family. On an average, two acres of land will produce a sufficient amount of wheat, after paying for threshing and grinding, and deducting all wastes to bread, bountifully, a single individual for twelve months. Less than an acre will do this, if that acre is properly prepared and manured, with the proper kind of manure, before the wheat is sown. Every farmer can make the calculation, and in a moment learn how many acres of land he must sow in wheat in order to have bread for his household. All he has to do is to count the members of his family and multiply this number by two, and the inquiry is answered at once.

The next suggestion we make is with reference to the kind of soil best adapted to the production of wheat. Our remarks, on this point, must necessarily be of a general character. The farmer, like every other man, must learn a great deal in the school of experience. As a general rule, wheat requires a lively rather than a very rich soil. It is evident that no very poor land can be lively; hence no kind of wheat ever grown in this country, will produce, even a moderate crop, on poor land, unless it is manured with great skill. It is a waste of labor to sow old worn out fields in wheat. Again: Wheat prefers a dry soil. Rich lowlands are not adapted to the growth of wheat, and never should be sown in wheat, unless for the sake of rotating crops. Red lands are generally better adapted to the growth of wheat than light, sandy lands.

With regard to the variety of wheat which is best, every farmer must determine this for himself. Some varieties are better adapted to some kinds of soil than others This no one can know so well as the man who has, for several years, cultivated the lands. In our country the best variety of wheat, all things considered, is the red May wheat. It requires stronger lands than some other varieties; but it has many things to recommend it. The stalk is strong and is seldom blown down. It is rarely injured by rust, since it ripens early. As a rule, it may be said that all late varieties of wheat are, in our climate, uncertain. When everything is favorable, the yield is often very great; but they are so often injured by rust, that the average yield, for a number of years, is less than that of the early varieties. Cheat and cockle never injure early wheat, since the wheat is ripe and harvested before the cheat and cockle are matured. The red May wheat possesses this advantage over all others. It is acclimated. This is a matter of no small moment. Some of those fine varieties, which have lately been introduced into our country, have degenerated so much that they are now almost worthless.

It must not be concluded that, under all circumstances, May wheat is the variety that should be sown. Every farmer must exercise his own judgment with regard to this matter. That a fair yield of wheat may be calculated upon with any degree of certainty, three things must be attended to. The wheat must be sown early; sown in good lively land; in land properly prepared.

Various ways have been discovered by which smut may be prevented. The usual way is to soak the seed in a solution of blue stone. To do this costs very little, and, usually, it prevents all smut Why it does this we do not know, nor do we suppose any one certainly knows. All small grain should be sown when the ground is in good plowing condition. If sown when the ground is too wet, it is almost certain not to do well. Why it is, we do not pretend to know; but wheat and oats sown when the ground is too wet, are more liable to smut and rust than when sown when the ground is in good plowing order.

A correspondent of the Department of Agriculture says:—"The shearing of sheep twice a year diminishes the amount of wool as I have satisfied myself by experiment. One fleece, annually shorn in the spring will weigh more than both the fall and spring fleeces from the same sheep."

When a horse is quite hot he should not be permitted to drink all the water he wants at once; a half pail full at short intervals is the safer way to water on such occasions.

If farmers have too much stock to carry through the winter, now is the time to sell the oldest, meanest, and poorest to be sold. Put in a separate pasture. Feed well, fatten and be sure to sell at some price. Never sell the best stock. If you keep stock at all, good stock is worth more than any one else. Weed out and sell the poor stock.

SMALL FARMERS.

We have often had occasion to call attention to the fact that those we are accustomed to call "small farmers" are generally the most prosperous farmers in the South. They are not so because small farms and very limited operations are, in themselves best, but because these farmers are working in harmony with their circumstances. They have accepted the situation and put their hands to the plow. Having small capital, and often very limited knowledge and skill, they go safely as they see the way clearly before them. The large planter, on the contrary, often without any capital at all of his own, attempts on borrowed money, at fearful high rates of interest, to conduct large operations, without closely counting the cost of the risks, and fails, as any soundminded, man, not infatuated with cotton, would see that he must. This does not prove that small farms and small farming are necessarily most profitable, but that our operations, both as to method and to extent, must correspond with our capital and other circumstances.

That farmer understood human nature who said: "If you want your boy to stay at home don't bear too hard on the grindstone when he turns the crank."

No man is born in this world whose work is not born with him; there is always work and tools to work withal, for those who will and blessed are the heavy hands of toil.
